CITIZENS' GUIDE TO TRANSPORTATION PLANNING

INTRODUCTION

How can YOU influence the future of transportation?

In the Gainesville Metropolitan Area, a well-designed efficient, effective and livable transportation system is critical to the mobility of the region, the viability of the community, and ultimately the economy.

Transportation is more than roads. Transportation affects our quality of life and provides a link for our essential needs (food, medical assistance, etc.). As the basic structure of our community's public space, our transportation system affects us in many ways, both as users and neighbors. It provides for a variety of transportation alternatives including automobiles, trucks, buses, motorcycles, bicycles and pedestrians. And it defines our neighborhoods and business districts. Because the transportation system is to serve YOU, the people, YOU are encouraged to get involved in the transportation planning process.

Why? Because YOU travel our roads and sit in rush hour traffic, you may have specific travel needs and desires you want to communicate. YOU travel on the transportation system nearly every day and see the need for improvements. YOU also enjoy bicycling and walking and may have ideas for sidewalks and bikeways that you want to share. YOU live in a neighborhood and can see the effect of roads on the quality of life of your community. YOU are an important part of the planning process.

This guide is designed to help YOU gain a better understanding of the transportation planning process and to help YOU get involved and participate in the decision-making process concerning how YOUR transportation funds are spent in this area. This guide also shows who can be contacted for more information and explains some of the technical terms and acronyms used in transportation planning. We want your input -- comments and concerns. YOU have the opportunity to get involved and make a difference in your community.

METROPOLITAN TRANSPORTATION PLANNING ORGANIZATION

What is the Metropolitan Transportation Planning Organization or MTPO?

A Metropolitan Transportation Planning Organization, more commonly known as an MTPO, is a policy board comprised of locally-elected officials that is required for urbanized areas with a population over 50,000.

The Metropolitan Transportation Planning Organization (MTPO) for the Gainesville Urbanized Area has direct authority over transportation decisions in the Gainesville urbanized area. It is mandated by federal and state legislation and is responsible for establishing a continuing, cooperative and comprehensive transportation planning process.

The MTPO is responsible for making transportation decisions. In other words, planning how to meet short-term and long-term travel needs. As a contributor, you can help the MTPO develop plans which meet the mobility needs of the community and are practical to implement given financial, environmental and social constraints.

What area does the MTPO cover?

The area of planning responsibility for the MTPO does not include all of Alachua County, but rather the developed and developing portions in and around the City of Gainesville. As of 2003, the Gainesville Metropolitan Area (GMA) consisted of the Gainesville Urbanized Area (as defined by the U.S. Census Bureau), portions of the City of Gainesville outside the Gainesville Urbanized Area and portions of unincorporated Alachua County within the Alachua County Urban Services Area. The MTPO boundary is reviewed in accordance with each decennial census.

Transportation Planning Boundaries

How is this transportation planning funded?

Federal funding for highway, transit, bicycle and pedestrian planning is provided by the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) and Federal Transit Administration (FTA). The Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) matches these federal funds with both cash and in-kind services. The Alachua County Board of County Commissioners and the Gainesville City Commission provide a local cash match.

Special funding for planning related to the Transportation Disadvantaged is provided through the Florida Commission for the Transportation Disadvantaged. These funds, derived through a fee on motor vehicle registrations, do not require a local match.

Who serves as members of the MTPO?

Voting members of the MTPO include the Mayor and six City of Gainesville Commissioners and the five Alachua County Commissioners. The membership framework is established by the Governor. The twelve voting members of the MTPO are listed below: Two MTPO members also serve on the Statewide Metropolitan Planning Organization Advisory Council (MPOAC).

ADVISORY MEMBERS

Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT)

District 2 Secretary or the Secretary's designee

University of Florida (UF)

Vice-President for Business Affairs serving for the UF President

MTPO PLANS AND PROGRAMS

Long Range Transportation Plan

A twentyfive-year transportation plan has been adopted by the MTPO through the year 2035. This Plan identifies major improvements to the transportation system which will be needed in the future to address projected patterns and volumes of traffic. Updates to this plan are prepared and adopted about every five years.

Transit Planning

Transit planning activities include the development of a Transit Development Plan (TDP). The TDP is a short-range plan, prepared by the Regional Transit System, concerning existing and future demand for transit (bus) service. This plan establishes a five-year plan for bus service. A current and up-to-date TDP is required in order to receive federal and state financial assistance for the Regional Transit System. A transit service evaluation is conducted to coincide with the Long Range Transportation Plan Update.

Bicycle Facility Planning

The MTPO is actively involved in conducting bicycle planning studies. In 2001, the MTPO adopted the Alachua Countywide Bicycle Master Plan. In addition, the MTPO also monitors bicycle activity. This information is reported every five years in a document entitled Bicycle Usage Trends Program Report.

Management Systems - Gainesville Metropolitan Area Mobility Plan

Work continues to implement management systems required for the Gainesville Metropolitan Area (GMA) by the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century and SAFETEA-LU. The Mobility Plan serves as the congestion management process for the GMA. As of 2007, MTPO staff prepares an annual status report on the Mobility Plan strategies. Results of this report are used and incorporated in the development of the Transportation Improvement Program. This will happen primarily through the annual development of transportation priorities that are developed over the summer and forwarded to FDOT annually.

Level of Service Studies

Each year, MTPO staff, working in cooperation with state and local agencies, develops multimodal [automobile, bicycle, pedestrian and transit] information concerning levels of service (traffic congestion) for arterial and collector roads in the Gainesville Metropolitan Area. This information is shared with state and local agencies and is used to support local comprehensive planning activities.

Transportation Improvement Program (TIP)

The purpose of the TIP is to identify all transportation projects to be funded over the next five-year period. This document is used to coordinate needed transportation projects with respect to timing, location and source of funding. In Alachua County, there are two different TIP documents. One is prepared and adopted by the MTPO for the Gainesville Urbanized Area, while the other is prepared and adopted by the Alachua County Commission for all of Alachua County. These documents are developed, reviewed and adopted in the Spring of each year.

Unified Planning Work Program (UPWP)

The UPWP identifies the planning efforts to be undertaken by all agencies in the Gainesville Metropolitan Area in order to maintain a comprehensive, cooperative and continuing transportation planning program. This document serves as the program budget for MTPO staff.

Attend Public Meetings

Public Workshops -

Workshops are where you are brought up-to-date on the details of the plan or program being presented at the workshop. You will also be provided with details regarding the next steps to be taken prior to the next workshop or public hearing. You are invited to provide comments regarding the plan or program being presented. Public workshop are held prior to crucial decision-making in the planning process.

❑ Public Hearings -

Public hearings are held by the MTPO to consider the adoption of the plan or program being presented at the hearing.

❑ Advisory Committee and Board Meetings -

As noted earlier, there are several advisory committees and boards that advise the MTPO, Gainesville City Commission and Alachua County Commission concerning transportation issues. You may contact the members of these committees and boards, or attend the meetings, to voice your questions and comments regarding transportation planning issues.

❑ MTPO Meetings -

The public may speak at these meetings with the approval of the MTPO chairperson. The MTPO meets on the second Monday of the month. However, meetings may be cancelled when there is no business requiring MTPO action. MTPO meetings are televised live on Cox Cable Channel 12. MTPO meeting minutes and current meeting packets are viewable on the MTPO's website at <http://ncfrpc.org/mtpo/index.html>

❑ Transportation Information Network -

In order to increase the level of citizen participation in the transportation planning process, the MTPO has established the Transportation Information Network. The purpose of the Network is to provide a forum to educate and inform the public about MTPO plans and strategies. This network consists of individuals representing the following groups:

- community
- environmental
- business
- neighborhoods
- professional
- low-income, elderly and disabled

From time to time, Transportation Information Network workshops are held in Gainesville to discuss proposed transportation plans and programs. These meetings are conducted as interactive workshops and are held both during the day and in the evening. If you are interested in becoming a member of this network, please contact MTPO staff at 955-2200.
